

Question: Would I have to join the union if it is voted in?

Answer: Possibly. California does not have a “Right to Work” law, which allows employees in unionized workplaces to opt out of joining the union and paying dues.

That means that the union could – and likely would – negotiate for a “union security” clause which would require union membership – and dues payment – as a condition of employment.

Question: How much would union dues cost?

Answer: Teamster monthly dues are 2½ times your hourly base pay rate.

Base Rate:	Monthly Dues:	Yearly Dues:
$21.50	$53.75	$645.00
$22.38	$55.95	$671.40
$29.06	$72.65	$871.80

Get the Facts!